

BEST AVAILABLE COPYAmendments to the Claims:

Claim 1 (currently amended): A custom putter comprising:

a putter head formed of a first material having a sole, a top, a back and a face each formed in a desired shape;

a bore formed in said top;

a polygonal shaped recess having vertical walls formed about said bore;

a hosel formed of a second material having an elongate body with an upper portion and a foot; said foot including a an outwardly flared polygonal shaped shoulder having vertical sides and a downwardly directed;

said hosel further including an elbow adjacent said upper portion, a receptacle being formed in said elbow;

a shaft of desired length and flex, said shaft being sized at a first end to fit into said receptacle and at a second end to support a grip; whereby, said putter is formed by securing said projection within said bore with said outward flared shoulder filled into said recess with said vertical sides engaged with said vertical walls uniting said hosel with said shaft putter head in a secure non-rotatable manner and said putter head securing said first end of said shaft in said receptacle.

Claim 2 (original): The custom putter of claim 1 wherein said body of said hosel forms a polygon and is of selected lengths.

Claim 3 (original): The custom putter of claim 1 wherein said putter head is selected from a group including cavity back, blade and mallet.

Claim 4-6 (cancel)

BEST AVAILABLE COPY

Claim 7 (currently amended): The ~~hasel~~ custom putter of claim 6 1 wherein said body is shaped to be one of circular, square and rectangular.

Claim 8 (currently amended): The ~~hasel~~ custom putter of claim 6 1 wherein said body is between one and three inches in length.

Claim 9 (currently amended): The ~~hasel~~ custom putter of claim 6 1 wherein said ~~receptacle is bore and said recess are~~ arranged at selected angles relative to the longitudinal axis of said body.

Claim 10-15 (cancel)

Claim 16 (new): The custom putter of claim 1 wherein said sides and said shoulders are about 2mm in height, allowing a merger of the shoulder with the putter head.